Studying at Sabancı gives you a great opportunity to explore one of the world's largest metropolises while at the same time receiving high quality, personal education. The small sizes of the classes together with the helpful attitude of teachers and staff gives you all the necessary tools to understand the subjects in more depth than otherwise would be possible. The size of Istanbul is in contrast the opposite and brings with it almost unlimited opportunities, you can always find something that suits your personal taste. After six months, it feels like I have only been able to see a fraction of Istanbul and I doubt that the remaining four will be enough to change that feeling substantially.

I lived in İstanbul as an exchange student in Sabancı for one year and now that I am back to my country I have the thought that I could not have picked a better place to live. Really, İstanbul became my second home and it will always be. I have never met someone who came to this wonderful city and did not feel in love for it! The landscapes, the history, the people, the culture... everything is so incredible and amazing about it. It does not matter who you are, for sure, you will feel embraced and welcomed! In addition, in terms of academic life, Sabancı provides a high-quality education with great teachers and courses and everyone there is extremely kind and helps you a lot with all the processes involving the exchange life. I strongly recommend going to Turkey, it was one of the most beautiful experiences I have ever had.

Going to Sabancı for a term gave me unparalleled ability to improve my Turkish and take classes relevant to my research. Furthermore, being close to the city enabled frequent access to archives for my thesis and other opportunities to learn from internationally renowned scholars. Most importantly, however, I met friends who I know I will be in touch with for the rest of my life. My only regret is not being able to spend more time with these wonderful people. Though short, one semester at Sabancı changed my life.
